

NEBRASKA HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES SYSTEM

Kimberly McFarland DDS, MHSA, is the dental director for the state of Nebraska. She received her Doctor of Dental Surgery (DDS) from Creighton University Medical Center and a Masters in Health Services Administration (MHSA) from St. Francis University.

She is on the faculty at both the University of Nebraska Medical Center, (UNMC) College of Dentistry and the Creighton University Medical Center, School of Dentistry where she primarily teaches ethics and dental public health.

Prior to becoming the state dental director, Dr.McFarland worked with the Indian Health Service in rural Nebraska. She was the dental director for the Omaha Tribe in Macy, Nebraska where she was the only dentist in the county for more than 5000 Native Americans.

In her free time Dr.McFarland mentors minority students who are interested in health science careers and works in a public health dental clinic serving homeless and uninsured patients.
